The NIAW Toolkit

National Infertility Awareness Week®, founded in 1989 by RESOLVE: The National Infertility Association, is the largest public awareness campaign that addresses the public health issue of infertility.

This year’s observance is April 21-27, 2024. Let’s use NIAW to talk about the issues facing this community, leave our mark, and make sure we continue to support those most in need.

Empowered to #LeaveYourMark
Anyone can be challenged to have a family. It’s time we write our own stories, leave our mark, and change the way we talk about and understand infertility.

When we come together and talk about infertility and the struggles people face when building a family, we...

1. Enhance public understanding that infertility needs and deserves attention.
2. Educate lawmakers about the barriers people face.
3. Ensure that people trying to build a family know the guidelines for seeing a specialist and the options they have to build a family.

In 2024, get ready to “Leave Your Mark”. Whether you’re a professional, patient, or supporting someone with infertility, we have a chance to leave a lasting impression during NIAW. Now is the moment to change the conversation around infertility, who it impacts, the barriers too many face, and what our policy makers and support systems can do to help.

Each and every one of us has a reMARKable story to share to help others understand the issues 1 in 6 people face worldwide. Through social media, local events, or advocating for change, together, let’s inform our communities, the media, and lawmakers what they can do to help support the cause.

Why ORANGE for Infertility Awareness?

Since 1989, we have used the color orange to raise awareness, increase activity around an important movement, and remind our community every day that RESOLVE is always there for them and providing education that promotes wellness both physically and mentally.

The color orange promotes a sense of general wellness and emotional energy that should be shared, such as compassion, passion, and warmth.

Studies show that the color orange can create physical effects such as a heightened sense of activity, increased socialization, boost in aspiration, stimulated mental activity, increased oxygen supply to the brain, increased contentment, and enhanced assurance. Orange also helps aid decision making and enhances happiness, confidence, and understanding.

#WearOrange Join the orange movement on Wednesday, April 24th, and rock your ORANGE gear to show your support of National Infertility Awareness Week®. It can be as simple as an orange shirt or other items like orange socks, orange lipstick, an orange ribbon, paint your nails orange, or even go big with a boa! Whatever you choose will be perfect as long as it is — you guessed it, orange.

Every picture tells a story. What is yours?

During National Infertility Awareness Week®, we want to show the impact of infertility and the challenges people face to build a family through the lens of your camera. The NIAW 5-Day Challenge is a way to help spread awareness through social media and share how infertility has directly impacted your life, work, and relationships.

Starting Monday, April 22, and ending on Friday, April 26, we are challenging this community to share a different photo, story, or reel every day using the prompts and hashtags below, as well as #NIAW2024 and #LeaveYourMark2024.

Day 1: 4/22 #ReMarkableStories
Your #ReMARKableStories deserve to be told. Share your journey on your feed, in a reel, or in a story to show what struggles you’ve overcome, what accomplishments you’ve made, and what challenges still exist in the family building world.

We know it takes a village — so tell us who’s part of yours. Post and tag the friends, support groups, online communities, etc., to thank them for being a source of positivity in your life.
